Inclusion.....

...is living the life you choose, with the same roles, opportunities and responsibilities as anyone else, with friends, family and partners, not just paid staff.

It is...

...Being respected for who you are

...Being a person not a label

...Being valued for your gifts and differences

...Feeling you belong

...Having a satisfying life not just doing activities ...

...Having friends and acquaintances

...Not suffering from discrimination

...Being involved with people, not just services

...Being able to make a positive difference

...Having a job or economic freedom

...Lifelong learning

...Exercising rights and choice

...Living with and alongside, not separate and segregated

...Being a full citizen

...Being missed when you are not there

...Being a part of life and love.
