

A Story of Adventures, Crafts, Lots and Lots of Stories and Two Dancing Queens.

Adventure's:

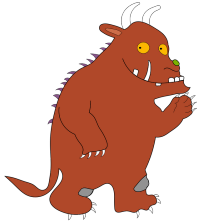

Most weeks, (weather permitting) we will set off on an adventure through the village. Usually our first port of call is to find the fluffy chickens. They are usually causing mischief in the garden of a neighbour's. With those ticked off on the map we then head for the stables. Here we are greeted by a big white horse and a little white donkey. They will often come over to say Hi to us. Sometimes we will see the brown horses being fed in the field opposite, they are always very vocal and sometimes make us jump. One of them likes to stick his head through the stable door. On from the stables, there is a Big Green field that is full of sheep. The sheep are usually chasing each other, like they are playing "Tick". We will always have a giggle at them. Then we head up the hill to the Golf Course. We always keep a look out for the Wildcat statues in people's gardens and try to keep count of how many we have seen. On through the golf course we keep a close check on the golf balls so as not to get hit by any low flying ones. (We will usually go very quickly through this section and sometimes pretend we're on a flying carpet) Once during the summer time, we saw a huge fluffy dog with great Big floppy ears here. And our last port of call before heading back home, is to see if we can find the Big Brown Chickens. These chickens love a game of hide and seek so we sometimes have to look really hard to find them. Our walks through the village were so good that we decided to draw an adventure map to include all the lovely things that we see.

Craft's:

Now we just love all types of arts and crafts. We love to get out the coloring pens and colouring books for a bit of relaxing time. And sometimes we like to get out the paints to do some finger print painting. But one of our most favourite craft times, was the time we made a "Gruffalo". We are just super proud of our Gruffalo. And who could forget the time we made a Big Blue POM POM Flower, with buttons and sequins stuck on it to jazz it up. And not forgetting our adventure map of the village, which we even dabbled with Tea-bags to make it look like a real old pirate's map.

Stories:

Now we just really love to get lost in a real good book before bedtime. We like to read 'The Cat in the Hat', because this book rhymes the whole way through. And 'Milly-Molly-Mandy' is also a favourite because this book has a map in it and so we can see where she is going on her adventures. We often read a short story of Mr Men and Little Miss. And we also like to read a pop up book such as Cinderella, so that we can follow the story in 3D. But maybe one of our most favourites of all is Peter Rabbit, because he is always getting up to mischief.

Dancing Queens:

Quite often when we have finished our Dinner, we will stand and have a walk around the kitchen or the lounge so that it helps Dinner to go down. But more often than not, because we will be listening to Abba, the walking turns into Dancing, because we just can't help ourselves.
